

Study + Weight Loss Routine

Current weight: 84 kg Daily study: 3 hours Sleep: 2:00 AM–7:00 AM (temporary 5-hour schedule)

Important: 5 hours sleep is being used only because of the current job-preparation phase. When your schedule allows, increase sleep toward 7+ hours. Do not combine short sleep with crash dieting or extreme workouts.

Monday–Saturday: Fixed Routine

Time	Routine
10:00–10:20 PM	Dinner — light, protein + vegetables + 1–2 roti
10:20–10:35 PM	10–15 min easy walk
10:35 PM–12:05 AM	Study Session 1 — 90 min deep study
12:05–12:20 AM	Workout — 15 min
12:20–1:50 AM	Study Session 2 — 90 min
1:50–2:00 AM	Stretch, prepare clothes/bag, sleep preparation
2:00–7:00 AM	SLEEP — 5 hours (temporary)
7:00–7:15 AM	Wake, water, freshen up
7:15–8:00 AM	Breakfast + lunch preparation: aata gundhna, roti belna/cook, sabzi cut/cook, lunch pack, bottle
8:00 AM onward	Office + travel (already fixed)

15-Minute Workout Rotation

Day	Workout
Monday	Full body: 3 rounds — 12 squats, 8–12 push-ups, 10 lunges/leg, 30-sec plank
Tuesday	Cardio: brisk marching/walking 10 min + 5 min stretching
Wednesday	Strength: squats 3×12, incline push-ups 3×10, backpack rows 3×12
Thursday	Cardio: fast walk/march 12 min + 3 min mobility
Friday	Full body: squats, push-ups, glute bridge, backpack rows, plank — 3 rounds
Saturday	15 min brisk walk/jog intervals

Daily Food Guide

Meal	Simple options
Breakfast	2–3 eggs + 2 roti + 1 fruit OR paneer bhurji + 2 roti + fruit
Lunch	2–3 roti + dal + sabzi + salad + curd; or small rice portion + dal + sabzi + salad
Evening snack	1 fruit OR roasted chana OR curd OR 2 boiled eggs; tea/coffee with little/no sugar
Dinner	2 roti + dal/sabzi + salad OR chicken/paneer + vegetables + 1–2 roti
Late-night hunger	Fruit, curd, boiled egg, roasted chana or plain milk — avoid biscuits/chips/Maggi
Water	Aim roughly 2.5–3 L/day, spread across the day

Sunday / Holiday Routine

Use this routine on Sunday or any holiday when you are staying home. If you are going to the mountains, a religious place, or out for enjoyment, follow the food principles but do not force the full schedule.

Time	Activity
7:00 AM	Wake + water
7:15–8:15 AM	Longer exercise: brisk walk/cycling + bodyweight strength
8:15–9:00 AM	Bath + breakfast
9:00–10:30 AM	Study Session 1 — 90 min
10:30–11:00 AM	Break / household work
11:00 AM–12:30 PM	Study Session 2 — 90 min
12:30–1:30 PM	Lunch
1:30–2:30 PM	Rest / nap if needed
2:30–4:00 PM	Personal work / hobby / coding project
4:00–5:00 PM	Outdoor walk / relaxed activity
5:00–7:00 PM	Free time
7:00–8:30 PM	Weekly food prep: dal, sabzi, boiled eggs, paneer/chicken portions, dough, washed/cut vegetables, fruits/snacks
8:30–9:00 PM	Dinner
9:00–10:00 PM	Weekly revision + plan next week
10:00–11:00 PM	Relax; reduce screen use
11:00 PM onward	Sleep early if possible

Sunday Food-Prep Checklist

- Prepare dal / basic curry for 2–3 days.
- Cook or portion vegetables.
- Boil eggs and store safely.
- Prepare paneer/chicken portions if used.
- Make dough for next day and refrigerate appropriately.
- Wash and cut vegetables; keep salad items ready.
- Keep fruits and roasted chana/peanuts ready for snacks.
- Pack Monday lunch ingredients together so 7:15–8:00 AM preparation stays manageable.

Study Focus Rotation

Day	Study focus
Monday	JavaScript / React
Tuesday	Node.js / Express / Backend
Wednesday	DSA
Thursday	React Native
Friday	Python / AI / LLM
Saturday	Project building + interview preparation
Sunday	Revision + project + mock interview

Weight-loss rules: Aim for steady progress rather than crash dieting. Keep sugary drinks, fried snacks, biscuits, chips and late-night junk food low. Household food preparation counts as activity, but keep dedicated walking/strength work too. If you feel unusually exhausted, dizzy, faint, or unwell, stop the workout and prioritize rest/medical advice.